

Michael Angelo's: Company Facts

Our Story

Austin-based Michael Angelo's Gourmet Foods produces a full line of frozen foods, specializing in authentic Italian entrees. The company's commitment to high-quality, real ingredients and made-to-order process guarantees the freshest food with outstanding homemade taste.

The business began in a 600-foot pizzeria in Solano Beach, near San Diego in Southern California. After closing the pizzeria at night, Michael Angelo, his girlfriend and two friends pushed tables together to form makeshift production lines. Using family recipes learned from Michael's mother, Sara, the team worked through the night preparing frozen Italian dishes and then distributed the meals to small local markets.

The frozen dishes quickly grew in popularity as customers were delighted by the rich taste and wholesome ingredients. As demand for Michael Angelo's meals grew, so did the family business. Michael Angelo decided to introduce his products to a larger market and, shortly thereafter, the company's products were introduced into warehouse club stores.

Today, Michael Angelo's Gourmet Foods continues to offer superior, restaurant-quality foods that can be prepared in a matter of minutes. And Sara still selects each ingredient, taking care that her personal recipes are created for consumers with the same pure and authentic goodness she serves her own family.
